Real People, Real Life in the Residence Halls

Living on campus provides a lot of perks – convenience, safety, no monthly bills, a few extra minutes of sleep before walking to class, and many more. The real benefit, though, is the people around you. Where else can you live with so many people, meet life-long friends, create memories, and always have someone around to hang out with day or night? The residence halls offer a special environment, and now's your chance to sign up for another year. Housing sign up is underway. For more information or to sign up, visit www.wmich.edu/housing
