

WESTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY – REFUND POLICY

The University has a tuition refund policy that stipulates the amount of tuition and fees that are refunded to a student who withdraws from all or a portion of classes during a term.

The dates and corresponding refund percentages are published by the Office of the Registrar in its academic catalogs. Please visit www.wmich.edu/registrar/calendars/academic to view the policy.

Withdrawing from courses can affect a student's financial aid; contact the Office of Financial Aid for more details. Additional information about refunds is available from Accounts Receivable at wmich.edu/accounts-receivable/faq/refund

Your award notice lists how much financial aid you will receive for the semester at full-time enrollment. If you withdraw from a course after the 100 % tuition refund date, it is considered a withdrawal and you will be charged for these courses.

If you withdraw from all your courses or stop attending them before completing more than 60 % of the semester, you may have to repay all or a portion of your financial aid.

Students who do not attend or participate in at least one day of class must repay their aid.

The federal government considers it an unofficial withdrawal when a student receives a failing grade for not attending or participating or when he/she stops attending class.