

Western Michigan University - Master of Social Work Student Organization (WMU MSWSO)

The Western Michigan University Master of Social Work Student Organization was established in 1969. Since that time, the organization has dealt with the problems and issues that have confronted and affected social work students at Western Michigan University. The organization also acts as a liaison between the faculty and student populations by electing MSW members to serve on all School of Social Work curriculum and service committees; thus keeping the lines of communication open between faculty and students, while influencing important policy decisions.

Officers are elected once per year. The officers conduct the meetings, record the minutes, and represent student concerns. The meetings of MSWSO are open to all M.S.W. students and membership has no requirement other than being a student in the M.S.W. program. The MSWSO is actively involved in the organization of the annual School of Social Work Graduation and Hooding Ceremony. For more information about the activities of this organization, and times and locations for meetings, contact Ms. Nancy McFadden at nancy.mcfadden@wmich.edu or by calling (269) 387-3200.
