

Knowing

The ability to comprehend a mathematical idea sufficiently to apply it to simple situations.

Performing Routine Procedures

The ability to apply an indicated procedure.

Using Complex Procedures

The ability to solve problems involving one or more steps before applying a learned procedure.

Solving Problems

The ability to solve problems for which an appropriate strategy is not initially evident.