The Impacts of China’s Rise on the Pacific and the World

Professor Xiaodong Zhu
Department of Economics, University of Toronto

“Trade, Migration and Growth: Evidence from China”

Dr. Xiaodong Zhu is Professor of Economics at the University of Toronto. His areas of research include growth and development, the Chinese economy and optimal fiscal policy. His current research focuses on understanding the sources of growth and economic structural changes both in China and across countries. He is on the editorial board of several journals and was an editor of the China Journal of Economics and a co-editor of the China Economic Review. Professor Zhu earned his Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Chicago in 1991 and is currently a special-term professor at the Shanghai Advanced Institute of Finance, Shanghai Jiaotong University.

Apr. 13, 2016 | 12 to 1:15
1028 Brown Hall

All of the lectures are free and open to the public. A light lunch reception will be available following each lecture.

For more information please contact:
Dr. Wei-Chiao Huang at (269) 387-5528 | huang@wmich.edu
or Dr. Huizhong Zhou at (269) 387-5550 | huizhong.zhou@wmich.edu

This series is named for longtime WMU economics professor and former department chair Dr. Werner Sichel, who retired in 2004.

The success and longevity of this series is a testament to his vision and guidance.