Gender Scholar Award Lecture
Dr. Anise K. Strong

The Empress' Gaze: Roman Women and Desire In History and Film

Anise K. Strong
Assistant Professor of History
Western Michigan University

Dr. Anise K. Strong is this year's recipient of the WMU Women's Caucus Gender Scholar Award. She received her BA from Yale University and her MPhil and PhD from Columbia University. She is an Assistant Professor at Western Michigan University, specializing in the study of ancient gender and sexuality and its reception in modern media. Dr. Strong is also a consultant for various television series in their depictions of antiquity.

The presentation will be held in 3025 Brown Hall
Tuesday, March 21 | 4 pm

Open to the public
Light refreshments will be served