RESEARCH BRIEFS IN GLOBAL STUDIES  Spring 2018

All sessions will be in 3025 Brown Hall

_Brought to you by the Global and International Studies Program_

---

Thursday, February 22, 4 to 5 p.m.

Diversity in Cities: Past and Present

With Alisa Perkins and James Palmitesssa

Perkins (pictured right, above; Comparative Religion) will discuss her ethnographic research on Muslim American civic engagement in Hamtramck, Michigan. Palmitessa (pictured right, below; History) will discuss diversity in Prague during Habsburg rule (c. 1527-1627 C.E.).

---

Wednesday, March 21, 4 to 5 p.m.

Telling Migration Stories

With Ann Miles & Susan Pozo

Miles (pictured left, above; Sociology) uses ethnographic research methods to tell a story of migration centered on Cuenca, Ecuador. Pozo (pictured left, below; GIST and Economics) uses quantitative research methods to tell a story of refugee migration to the United States.

---

Wednesday, April 4, 3 to 4 p.m.

Interviews in Fieldwork

With Chien-Juh Gu and Greg Veeck

Chien-Juh Gu (pictured right, above; Sociology) will discuss her interviews with Taiwanese Americans in Chicago. Greg Veeck (pictured right, below; Geography) will discuss his interviews with Han and Tibetan herding households in Gansu Province, China.