

Where Students Can Find The Proficiency Exam

The screenshot shows the Western Michigan University Elearning portal. At the top, there is a navigation bar with "My Home", "Select a course...", and "Student Name". Below this is the "Elearning News" section with a news item about Microsoft Office 365. To the right is a "Calendar" section showing the date "Monday, November 2, 2015" and "Upcoming events". Below the news is a "Follett Discover" section with a "FACULTY" sub-section titled "Discover and Select Course Materials" and a "STUDENTS" sub-section titled "Buy and Rent Books". To the right of this is a "Student Help Widget" with a "Help and Technical Support" image and text about the Help Desk. Below the Follett section is a "My Courses" section with "Ongoing" and "No Term" sub-sections. The "No Term" section lists several courses, including "Information Literacy in the Health Sciences Proficiency Exam - information-literacy-health-sciences". To the right of the "My Courses" section is a "University Libraries" section with a "Library Search" box and several service links. A red arrow points from the "Information Literacy in the Health Sciences Proficiency Exam" course listing to the "No Term" sub-section header.
